

Declaration of a Minor

A student with a concentration in a single department or program may declare a minor in one or two other departments or programs that offer a minor. Students declaring a minor are strongly encouraged to consult with the appropriate department or program chair. Normally, a student should declare a minor early in the spring of their junior year.

Declaration of a minor in the same department or program as the student's concentration requires approval of the Committee on Academic Standing. In your petition, you should present reasons why the combination of your proposed minor and concentration will not prevent you from achieving a reasonably diverse selection of courses across the curriculum.
